Welcome!

Welcome to Sustain Jefferson! Together, our voices can be heard, and our call for responsible, sustainable practices will help ensure a viable tomorrow for all the citizens of this fragile world - human and otherwise.

Sustain Jefferson assists companies, non-profit organizations, individuals and municipalities in and around Jefferson County, Wisconsin, with their transition to an ecologically, socially and economically sustainable future.

Why Sustainable Development in a Disposable World?

Sustainable development is defined as balancing the fulfillment of human needs with the protection of the natural environment so that these needs can be met not only in the present, but in the indefinite future.

The Brundtland Commission coined what has become the most-often-quoted definition of sustainable development as development that “meets the needs of the present generation without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs.”

Sustain Jefferson utilizes the principles of The Natural Step, an international non-profit organization that has been working since 1988 to accelerate global sustainability. The Natural Step is based on sound science, systems thinking and practical business decision-making.

Sustain Jefferson offers study groups, educational speakers, and a variety of volunteer activities for many talents, skills and abilities.

Please contact us for more information, and visit our web site at www.sustainjefferson.org, to learn how you can help change the world, starting right here at home in Jefferson County.
